

1.4.29.

CORDILLO 392

D. D. D. Tomas Diegues.

(29)

Fing. Junio 152. 1821.

CTDO
CAJ. 2.
DOC. 739
Fols. 2.

Muy S. mio y de todo mi agrasio. Quando me
 lleno de satisfacion me hallaba en esta Ciudad, dis-frutando de los sabores, agrasios, y comodidad q. me fran-quea su amable familia, y Casa, me es forzoso separarme de ella con el mayor dolor, a merito de comision ad-me S. E. el Subsecretario el Despacho de la Amora de Casta-maña, para cuyo punto me dirijo demas de tener, i q. n. d.
 tto dia, consolandome solo la esperanza de q. designando la Suprema Orden de su S. E. Comision, hana q. se abra la Capital p. a. hix a recibir en ella mi natural destino, puede tener lugar con prontitud, segun las noticias fabo-rables q. con repeticion recibimos del buen estado, y marcha de nro Exerito. Uno y otro destino ofusco i. E.
 con todo lo demas q. pueda valer, debiendo citar por ma-
 dida q. p. todo respecto estoy obligada a desempeñar quan-
 to se sigue por esta amia Ciudad, como de que soy tan apasionada Am. D. S. M. B.

Tuan Am. Cordillo

No. 2. June 1822

July 1822

The first part of the book is devoted to a description of the natural history of the country, and is divided into three parts, the first of which is a general description of the country, the second a description of the climate, and the third a description of the soil. The second part of the book is devoted to a description of the mineral resources of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the metals, and the second a description of the minerals. The third part of the book is devoted to a description of the agriculture of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the crops, and the second a description of the stock. The fourth part of the book is devoted to a description of the manufactures of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the textile manufactures, and the second a description of the other manufactures. The fifth part of the book is devoted to a description of the commerce of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the foreign commerce, and the second a description of the inland commerce. The sixth part of the book is devoted to a description of the population of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the total population, and the second a description of the different classes of the population. The seventh part of the book is devoted to a description of the government of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the constitution, and the second a description of the administration. The eighth part of the book is devoted to a description of the education of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the general education, and the second a description of the higher education. The ninth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public works of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the roads, and the second a description of the canals. The tenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public buildings of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the government buildings, and the second a description of the other public buildings. The eleventh part of the book is devoted to a description of the public institutions of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the hospitals, and the second a description of the other public institutions. The twelfth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public charities of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the almshouses, and the second a description of the other public charities. The thirteenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public offices of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the offices of the government, and the second a description of the other public offices. The fourteenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public revenues of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the taxes, and the second a description of the other public revenues. The fifteenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public debts of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the foreign debts, and the second a description of the other public debts. The sixteenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public works of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the roads, and the second a description of the canals. The seventeenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public buildings of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the government buildings, and the second a description of the other public buildings. The eighteenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public institutions of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the hospitals, and the second a description of the other public institutions. The nineteenth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public charities of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the almshouses, and the second a description of the other public charities. The twentieth part of the book is devoted to a description of the public offices of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the offices of the government, and the second a description of the other public offices. The twenty-first part of the book is devoted to a description of the public revenues of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the taxes, and the second a description of the other public revenues. The twenty-second part of the book is devoted to a description of the public debts of the country, and is divided into two parts, the first of which is a description of the foreign debts, and the second a description of the other public debts.

John Smith, Esq.

Al Sr. D. D. Fr. Juan Diez y
J. P. Juez Eclesiastico del Regimiento
de Pizarra, y Casa de la Doctrina
de

Catacaes

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher but appears to contain names and possibly a date or location.

Handwritten signature or name, possibly "C. ...".